At a glance

We help customers succeed through collaboration and innovation, and are committed to sharing our global knowledge and experience to help meet economic, environmental and social challenges.

Job description :

During your training period as a Technical Graduate you will apply your technical expertise and leadership potential in a hands-on environment. Early on, you will be responsible for a significant part of the production process and for the people that make it happen. You will be expected to contribute to productivity, quality and process improvement. Your success is determined by your capability to develop leadership skills.

Required profile :

We're looking for highly motivated recent university graduates with a Master's (or equivalent) degree in engineering (mechanical, chemical, process, agricultural, food science...). You must demonstrate natural leadership ability and passion to learn within a cutting-edge environment. A focus on delivering quality work is key as well as excellent communication and interpersonal skills. The ability to adapt to changes in a growing multinational company is important to us. Having an international presence, we are looking for graduates who are willing to travel and open to relocating to other countries as part of their career development.
